

ABSTRACT

10 A means to bore into the ground using water and or air under pressure to loosen the ground so as to make the ground vacuum able. The water and or air under pressure may be directed to impact the ground as a constant, steady force or as an intermittent pulsed impact force.